Strong Performance and Positive Tailwinds

Robust Industry Growth

AI as the Dominant Catalyst

*Increasing AI applications, digitalization and next-generation of communications are boosting demand in datacenters, edge computing and Internet of Things endpoints

Continuous Evolution of Digitalization

Adoption of consumer electronics as well as rising demand of automotive electronics and smart industrial applications, have together fueled strong demand for the semiconductor industry

Soaring Semi Upcycle

According to Gartner®, global semiconductor sales will exceed $1tn in 2026, exhibiting the highest percentage growth in the last two decades(1)

Strong Business Performance and Promising Outlook

Increasing Importance in the AI Supply Chain

Datacenters and Servers revenue surged 248% YoY in 1Q26, as WT evolves into a key supply chain integrator for the complex AI ecosystem

Solid Recovery in Automotive & Industrial Segments

Demand for Automotive Electronics and Industrial and Instruments is rebounding and inventory levels have normalized

Smooth Integration with Future Electronics

Substantial progress has been made on the integration with Future in terms of business and corporate culture

Strategic Growth Initiatives

Leverage WT's global footprint to pursue high-quality, value-driven business, while developing new opportunities with existing and new partners
